

1. There	2 be (be -to be -is –are- was- were- has been)
-----------------	---

There was a revolution in 1789 (= date + terminé)

Look! There has been an accident! (pas de date+ résultats encore visibles)

There were 10 cakes- Jane ate 7: there are 7 left

- Il y a un stylo sur la table

There is a pen on the table

- Il y a beaucoup de bruit

- There is a lot of noise

3. Il y a beaucoup de monde

There are a lot of people

4. Il y a eu un tremblement de terre.

There has been an earthquake

5. Il n'y aura pas de bus la semaine prochaine.

There will be no buses next week= there won't be any

6. Il y avait un homme dans la voiture

There was a man in the car

7. Il y avait deux hommes dans la voiture

There were two men in the car

8. Reste -t- il des biscuits ?

Are there any biscuits left?

9. Il y a eu un accident.

There has been an accident.

10. N'y -a- t- il aucune solution ?

Is there no solution ? = isn't there any

11. Il n'y avait plus de trains quand il est arrivé.

There were no trains (available) when he arrived

12. Il y aura peut-être de la circulation sur la route.

There may be traffic on the road = there might be

13. Il ne reste plus de pain

There isn't any bread left

14. Il y aura un nouveau film demain

There will be a new film tomorrow

15. Il va y avoir un problème.
There is going to be a problem

16. Il devrait y avoir plus d'infirmières.

There should be more nurses

17. Il doit y avoir une solution.

There must be a solution

18. Y- a-t-il un médecin dans la salle ?

Is there a doctor in this room (I guess not ..)

19. Il y a six mois qu'ils sont arrivés. !!!!!!!TRAP !!!!!!! time : ~~there is~~ = ago

They arrived six months ago

20. Il ne reste presque plus d'essence

There is hardly any petrol /oil/gas left

21. Il ne restera plus de baleines le siècle prochain

There will be no whales left next century

22. Il y aurait moins de crimes s'il y avait plus de policiers

There would be fewer.....crimes if there were more policemen

Clément has 10 friends- Henri has 5 friends so Henri has fewer..... friends than Clément

Amélie drinks less beer than Henri

23. Il y aurait eu un accident s'il n'avait pas été là

There would have been an accident if he had not been here

Make a sentence with the following words

24. There was.....too much traffic yesterday.

25. There is too much traffic every day

26. There...will be too much traffic tomorrow

27. ...Was there /.....too much traffic when you arrived ?

28. Look! There has just been / an accident !